

Knowledge Translation Workshop: Implementing Evidence into Practice

11-13 June 2019

Have you ever tried to get a new guideline or evidence-based change implemented into practice, and been surprised by how long it took and how complex it was? Did you struggle to measure the project's success?

This workshop covers three-days of highly interactive and outcome focused content, addressing the essential skills and knowledge needed to facilitate the implementation of evidence and innovation into everyday practice.

Course outline

This is a participatory course, with interactive group discussions and group activities. Course content will cover:

- What is knowledge translation and why is it important?
- What are the key constructs in implementation science?
- How do we use theories, models and frameworks?
- How do we engage patients, staff and other stakeholders? How do we work together to understand problems, and co-design solutions?
- What do we need to know about context?
- What strategies can support change?
- How will we show we have made a difference?
- How will we convince decision makers?

Course presenters

Led by an internationally renowned team of knowledge translation researchers, facilitators & practising clinicians from Queensland and South Australia, you will learn how to set up an implementation project, how to facilitate the process and how to evaluate its impact.

Adrienne Young, Alison Mudge and Prue McRae: Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital

Gill Harvey and Elizabeth Lynch: The University of Adelaide

Sarah Hunter: Flinders University

Megan Campbell: AusHSI QUT

Target Audience

- Health Professionals and Managers interested in service improvement and innovation
- Academics and students interested in Health Services Research and Implementation Science

Special Guests and Panellists

Amanda Dines, Executive Director, Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital

Scott Bell, Director of Research, Metro North Hospital and Health Services

Liza-Jane McBride, Chief Allied Health Officer, Allied Health Professions Office Queensland

Wednesday evening social event

Join your course presenters and special guests for a social event on the second evening of your workshop, to be held at Mr & Mrs G, Eagle Street Pier. This valuable networking opportunity is included in your course fee.

Details

Date: 11-13 June 2019

Time: 9:00am – 5:00pm

Venue: Queensland University of Technology, Owen J Wordsworth Room, S Block, Gardens Point Campus, 2 George Street Brisbane

Cost: $1,900 standard
$1,100 student

Registration link:

<https://qutex.eventsair.com/aushsi-program/implementing-evidence-into-practice-registration>

For further information please email: contact@aushsi.org.au