

Activity: Resident Scenario

Edward is 75 years old with a history of angina (chest pain), high blood pressure, and type 2 diabetes which is diet and medication controlled. He walks independently, but has dementia and can wander.

You are the PCW looking after him today. In the last few hours he has been more aggressive and lashed out verbally. He has been seen rubbing his left arm and looks pale and sweaty.

What signs of deterioration are there?

What should you do?
